

THE LIGHT

It is the holiday season. But, do we know what we celebrate? We stand within a powerful stream of energies. But, do we know what they are? We are presented with an opportunity. But, do we know what it is and will we seize it?

The Solstice is at 1:24 PM on 22 December. In the southern hemisphere it is the day of greatest light. It is the entry into the sign of Capricorn. It has always been the time when a world saviour comes into the world because the theme of Capricorn is the anchoring of a temple of light within the human form.

The Christian church set Jesus' birth as 25 December so that it would fall within the sacred month of Capricorn. It was not set for the solstice so as to draw people away from the pagan celebrations set for that time.

We can choose to celebrate at this time both the birth of Jesus and also those who came before and after him to bring light into this darkened world. They are our inspiration. They reveal who we are.

This Solstice let us remember that we are souls. We are angelic beings wedded to our animal bodies. As souls, we are light beings on a mission to heal, redeem and release all we come in contact with.

And, as we remember, let us radiantly live what we remember. Our opportunity is to express the truth: we are temples of light. Let us look into each others eyes and see the good. Let us look at fear until it loses itself in the light. And, let give to each other what our souls cry out for. Let us love.
